

[core1006]The Green Man-You Decide_combination /nov2001 .ENG

since i've bought my first combination release i smoothly turned into a true combination fan.

heiner kruse and his assistants have made a stunning release. cologne's minimal scene definitely had influences on basswerk's green man. maybe if i had got this record on summer, it wouldn't have rocked my head like this. i feel some melancholic, autumn taste on the whole album. i have to mention that maurizio's works did an alteration in my musical approach and i feel the same on this album too. pure precise minimalistic drum'n'bass for all the heads who are always searching for the new sounds. reverbed piano chords, deep melodic atmosphere and some kickin drumsets. very nice!

the album has 12 tracks and some of us may remember of `chicks` which was done by tgm+klute in cologne and was released at certificate18 last year's klute-fear of people album. also there you can find that infinity tracks's new version `infinity 2.0`. 11 more to come, i wouldn't list them here, just have a listen. i guarantee you will get what you expect after all: a fine german dnb release again